

Evening Performances

Thursday, January 10, 2008, 7:30 p.m.

Host: Andy Wilkinson – Lubbock, Texas

Jean Prescott – Ovalo, Texas

A former rodeo queen and barrel racer whose voice is the spiritual essence of the West

John Nelson – Gunnison, Colorado

Wryly humorous, sometimes sincere rhymes that define the joy of a backcountry horseman's life

Chuck Pyle – Palmer Lake, Colorado

Brilliant singer-songwriter and guitarist, Chuck will be joined by the superb Gordon Burt on fiddle and harmony

– Intermission –

Milton Taylor – Hartley, New South Wales, Australia

This champion bush poet will move you from laughter to tears

Cowboy Celtic – Turner Valley, Alberta, Canada

The roots of cowboy music with mandolin, fiddle, harp, guitar and stunning vocals and stories

Friday, January 11, 2008, 7:30 p.m.

Host: Andy Nelson – Pinedale, Wyoming

Andy Hedges – Lubbock, Texas

This "twenty something" puncher keeps alive the classic poems and traditional cowboy folk music

Georgie Sicking – Kaycee, Wyoming

Cowgirl Hall of Famer, Georgie has spent 80 some years on the ranch, prefers to be called a cowBOY, and is always a lady

Richard Elloyan – Dayton, Nevada

The High Desert of Nevada and the life of the cowboy is depicted in his songs and poems of the West

– Intermission –

Doris Daley – Turner Valley, Alberta, Canada

Doris lights up the stage with wordplay, wit, and acclaimed cowboy poetry

Yampa Valley Boys – Steamboat Springs, Colorado

Multi-instrumentalists and high-energy performers, these boys will have you singin' and laughin' along

Saturday, January 12, 2008, 7:30 p.m.

Host: Doris Daley – Turner Valley, Alberta, Canada

Jill Jones – Driftwood, Texas

Jill will sing classic songs from Buck Ramsey's recordings, some break-neck yodeling, and a little poetry of her own.

Jerry Brooks – Sevier, Utah

One of the very best reciters of classic cowboy poetry, her performance includes a Buck Ramsey masterpiece

O'Brien Family Band – Evergreen, Colorado

Championship yodeling, fiddling and mandolin give this high-energy group the edge in old time country, bluegrass, western and gospel

– Intermission –

Yvonne Hollenbeck – Clearfield, South Dakota

Award-winning poetry, funny and poignant, from a ranch wife and quilter

Jon Chandler and the Wichitones – Commerce City, Colorado

Stunning songs and stories with historical basis
Back by popular demand, Jon is joined by Butch Hause and Ernie Martinez

---

Matinee Performances

Saturday, January 12, 2008, 1:00 p.m.

Host: Liz Masterson – Denver, Colorado

Gary McMahan – Bellvue, Colorado

Poet, yodeler, songwriter, Gary's performance makes him an "All-Around Top Hand"

Cowboy Celtic – Turner Valley, Alberta, Canada

The roots of cowboy music with mandolin, fiddle, harp, guitar and stunning vocals and stories

– Intermission –

Andy Nelson – Pinedale, Wyoming

Hilarious wit from this former farrier, guaranteed to "getcher attention"

Bill Barwick and The Sons of the Tumbleweed – Denver, Colorado

Award-winning voice and guitar joined by legendary fiddler, Johnny Neill, and Steve McCartney on bass, blend the best of the old and new west

Sunday, January 13, 2008, 1:00 p.m.

Host: Milton Taylor – Hartley, New South Wales, Australia

Vic Anderson – Estes Park, Colorado

This Montana ranch kid grew up to be a world-class yodeler, whistler and a dandy songwriter and guitarist

Dick Warwick – Oakesdale, Washington

From the sublime to the ridiculous, Dick is a wordsmith force of dazzling poetic proportion.

Liz Masterson and the Cactus Crooners – Denver, Colorado

Vintage Western songs with yodeling, harmony and fiddler, Ron Jones, and Duane Webster on bass

– Intermission –

Jennifer Haig – Eulo, Queensland, Australia

Winner of an Bush Poet Laureate Award, this Aussie lassie knows her way around horses, fences, sheep, cattle and all the thrills of life on a station

Barry Ward – Elbert, Colorado

Growing up in the rural heartland gives Barry inspiration for his songs. He shares his life as a farmer and rancher